Since 2015, Dustin has been a valuable member of the Pivot CPAs team. He joined the firm as a tax supervisor, bringing with him four years of valuable experience working with a Virginia-based public accounting firm. Today, Dustin serves as a senior tax manager. In this capacity, he is responsible for preparing and reviewing returns for multi-state entities and high net worth individuals. He is skilled in assisting his clients with tax planning and local compliance specific to their unique situations.

Dustin is an active member of the professional community. As a CPA licensed in both Florida and Virginia, he maintains membership with the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA).

Raised as a “Navy kid,” Dustin grew up jumping from coast to coast. These days, he is happily settled in Ponte Vedra Beach, Florida. He enjoys the area because it offers access to the beach and river and because it offers larger city amenities while maintaining a small-town vibe. In his free time, Dustin enjoys exploring new cities and learning new things. A self-described “huge foodie,” he loves the experience of trying new foods and restaurants—he is very adventurous and will try any food at least once!
