Since 2018, Ramsey has been a diligent member of the Pivot CPAs team. He currently serves as a manager in the firm's Tax Department. In this capacity, he is responsible for performing tax preparation, planning, and strategizing. A professional in the accounting field since 2015, prior to joining Pivot, Ramsey worked for a regional public accounting firm in Brunswick, Georgia.

Ramsey serves within the professional community as a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA). Additionally, he puts his professional experience to use for by sitting as board member and serving on the finance committee of the North Central Florida YMCA as well as serving as a Trustee to the North Florida Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Originally from Statesboro, Georgia, Ramsey now lives in Gainesville, Florida with his wife, Katie, and their two dogs, Hank and Nilla. He enjoys Gainesville because living in Central Florida allows him access to a large variety of outdoor activities. In his free time, Ramsey likes going duck hunting, bow hunting, barbequing, and woodworking. He loves to cheer on the Atlanta Braves, and the Georgia Bulldogs.
